

It has been an enormous pleasure working with your children this year. It was truly amazing to see the amount of progress each of them has made. Please remember that the summer is an important opportunity for your child to continue developing their reading, writing, and math skills to better prepare them for Pre-K/Kindergarten. Below is a suggested list of various activities and websites to encourage the process of learning during the summer break. Use your creativity and always ensure that the experience is fun for your child.

Reading

- Continue to read and be read to daily.
- Encourage siblings to read together.
- Make frequent trips to the public library or bookstore.
- Read road signs, recipes, instructions, and other labels.
- Ask your child questions about what he/she has read to increase comprehension.
- *Be the example- when your child reads, you could read. 😊

Writing

- Practice writing your first and last name.
- Write in sharpie on a note card and have the child trace over with a blank paper and pencil.
- Practice writing the alphabet.
- Have your child help write a grocery list.
- Practice writing family member names.
- All of this will increase not only writing but letter recognition!

Math

- Count money to buy an item.
- Weigh fruit/veggies at the grocery.
- Ask your child to assist you with measurements when cooking.
- Play games where math is used. (Ex: Candyland and Chutes and Ladders)

We are also including a personalized ABCmouse account for each student. This is a free membership that will expire July 31. Your child's teacher will have access to monitor their progress/activity over the summer.
